Hello AAUW Tampa Members,

Welcome to the 2024-2025 membership year. It's good to be back from summer break. What a summer it's been! Discussions have abounded related to abortion rights, Project 2025, and a push for partisan school board races. We also saw a failed assassination attempt on former President Trump and the amazing return of gymnast Simone Biles at the 2024 Paris Olympics.

The biggest moment for me was a two-part historical milestone. Part 1 began on June 27, 2024, with the first Presidential Debate between President Biden (D) and Former President Trump (R). Biden's performance sparked a chain reaction, paving the way for Part 2, Vice President Kamala Harris (D) becoming the first Black and Asian woman nominated for president by a major party. Though the election outcome is still over 65 days away, we have experienced history-in-the-making as 25 million watched Harris accept the Democratic Presidential nomination.

No matter your political beliefs, I hope we can support candidates at all levels who positively impact women and girls. Each new membership year reminds me of AAUW Tampa's mission and vision, and further reminds me that without our action, our mission and vision become stagnant.. This membership year, think about where you can (and will) take action to advance gender equity for women and girls through research, education, advocacy and service.

Your presence and support are vital, so please invite others to join us.

In these critical times, it is essential for AAUW to organize and advocate for issues that advance women and girls. Our Public Policy Co-Director, Ms. Michelle Douglass, Esq., has highlighted some key public policy issues in the newsletter that should be on your radar. We encourage everyone to vote and inspire others to do the same. Together, we can drive the change we want to see.

Additionally, please mark your calendars for another important event. On October 19th, we will host “Circue de la Morte,” a murder mystery luncheon presented by the Pelican Players. . ## Recognizing Our Very Own!

Lastly, we are incredibly proud of our Tampa chapter members, Dr. Kay Lee-Smith, who has embarked on her first year as President of AAUW Florida, and Dr. Demetrix Rostick-Owens, who has begun her inaugural term as Director of Communications for AAUW Florida. Dr. Rostick-Owens has also been awarded a $1000 sponsorship to attend the AAUW Atlantic Regional Conference in Glen Allen, VA, from September 27-29, 2024. We are thrilled that she will represent the Tampa branch at this prestigious event. Congratulations to both Dr. Rostick-Owens and Dr. Lee-Smith! Let’s show them our support in their new roles at the state level by ensuring AAUW Tampa continues to flourish and answer the call when asked to support.

There is a place for everyone in AAUW! You do not have to be a seasoned leader to serve. It takes a village to move the organization forward. We want all your involvement, whether on the board, on a committee, on a welcome team, or simply sharing your ideas or helping us identify more potential members, guests, or potential speakers. Whatever you can contribute, big or small, we need you! I hope you enjoy the issue, courtesy of Dr. Demetrix Rostick-Owens and all who supplied content for this edition.

Florida's Amendment 4: A Crucial Step for Women's Autonomy

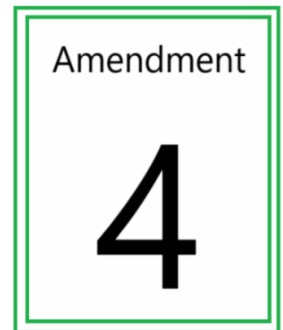

As the Public Policy Chair for the AAUW Tampa Branch, it's imperative to address the significance of Florida's Amendment 4, the Right to Abortion Initiative, which will appear on the November 2024 ballot. This amendment seeks to enshrine the right to abortion in the state constitution, ensuring that no law shall prohibit, penalize, delay, or restrict abortion before viability or when necessary to protect the patient's health, as determined by the patient's healthcare provider.

AAUW's Support for Amendment 4

The American Association of University Women (AAUW) has long championed the rights of women to make autonomous decisions regarding their reproductive health. AAUW's mission to advance gender equity through education, advocacy, and research aligns with the principles of Amendment 4, which aims to protect women's rights to make personal medical decisions without government interference.

Why Amendment 4 Matters

- 1. Protecting Women's Health and Autonomy: The current law in Florida, championed by Governor DeSantis, restricts abortion access to just six weeks, a period in which many women may not even realize they are pregnant. This limitation not only undermines women's autonomy but also poses significant health risks. Amendment 4 seeks to rectify this by allowing abortions up to the point of fetal viability, or when necessary to protect the woman's health, thus prioritizing women's well-being and decision-making power.
- 2. Addressing Unreasonable Restrictions: The existing restrictions are not reasonable as they fail to consider the complexities of individual health circumstances. Abortion is often a last resort, and being denied access can be traumatizing, especially when it is necessary for life-saving reasons. Amendment 4 ensures that such critical decisions remain between a woman and her healthcare provider, free from political influence.
- 3. Maintaining Government Neutrality: It's crucial to keep government out of personal medical decisions. The amendment reinforces the idea that reproductive choices should be made based on medical advice and personal circumstances, not political agendas. This is essential for maintaining the integrity and privacy of women's healthcare.

Ballot Title

Amendment to Limit Government Interference with Abortion

Ballot Summary

The proposed amendment will state: "No law shall prohibit, penalize, delay, or restrict abortion before viability or when necessary to protect the patient's health, as determined by the patient's healthcare provider. This amendment does not change the Legislature's constitutional authority to require notification to a parent or guardian before a minor has an abortion" .

This language aims to ensure that personal medical decisions regarding abortion remain between a patient and their healthcare provider, free from political interference. The amendment requires a 60% supermajority vote for approval to be added to the Florida Constitution.

The ballot will present Amendment 4 as a measure to limit government interference with abortion, explicitly stating that no law shall restrict abortion before viability or when necessary for the patient's health. It maintains the Legislature's authority to require parental notification for minors seeking an abortion.

Mobilizing Support for Amendment 4

As an organization, we can take several steps to support this initiative:

1. Educate and Advocate: Share information about Amendment 4 and its implications with friends, family, and colleagues. Host informational sessions or community forums to discuss the importance of protecting reproductive rights.
2. Engage in Voter Outreach: Participate in get-out-the-vote campaigns to ensure that supporters of women's rights are registered and ready to vote in November.
3. Leverage Social Media: Use social media platforms to spread awareness and counter misinformation about the amendment. Highlight personal stories and expert opinions to emphasize the necessity of this measure.
4. Collaborate with Organizations: Partner with organizations like the ACLU, Planned Parenthood, and Floridians Protecting Freedom, which are actively campaigning for the amendment's passage.

By advocating for Amendment 4, we uphold the AAUW's commitment to gender equity and the empowerment of women to make informed choices about their bodies and futures. Let's ensure that Florida leads the way in safeguarding reproductive rights and setting a precedent for other states to follow.
